In fact, she's desperate to plead guilty. And in Alison's own life, too, all is not as it seems. With a doting husband, an adorable daughter, and a blossoming career, she has everything she could want, right? As the murder case escalates, she can't stop her personal life from spinning further and further out of control.

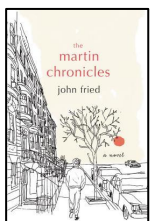

Fall Back Down When I Die by Joe Wilkins- Little, Brown- 978-0-316-47535-8- HC- $35.00- Fiction- 240 pp.- March 2019

Wendell Newman, a young ranch hand in Montana, has recently lost his mother, leaving him an orphan. His bank account holds less than a hundred dollars, and he owes back taxes on what remains of the land his parents owned. Into this situation comes seven-year-old Rowdy Burns, the illegitimate son of Wendell's cousin. Traumatized, Rowdy is mute and damaged. Caring for him will be a test of Wendell's will and resolve, and yet he comes to love the boy more than he ever thought possible. But that love will be stretched to the breaking point.

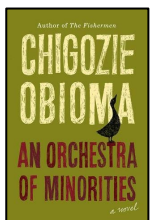

Golden State by Ben H. Winters- Mulholland Books- 978-0-316-50541-3- HC- $36.50- Fiction- 336 pp.- January 2019

In a strange alternate society that values law and truth above all else, Laszlo Ratesic is a nineteen-year veteran of the Speculative Service. He lives in the Golden State, a nation standing where California once did, a place where like-minded Americans retreated after the erosion of truth and the spread of lies made public life and governance impossible. In the Golden State, knowingly contradicting the truth is the greatest crime--and stopping those crimes is Laz's job.

The Martin Chronicles by John Fried- Grand Central- 978-1-5387-2983-0- HC- $34.00- Fiction- 272 pp.- January 2019

In sixth grade, eleven-year-old Martin Kelso's world starts to change. Girls get under his skin in ways he never noticed before. Even his cousin Evie has grown wild, unpredictable, and mysterious. Muggers was once just a game played by Marty and his friends, but now real muggers are targeting them on their way to school. Marty used to feel secure in his own skin; but as he grows up and life changes too quickly around him, it becomes increasingly difficult for him to choose right over wrong--or to even tell the difference between the two.
